

gingerbread boy

WHAT YOU NEED

Body - 1/4 yd. brown prairie cloth
Pocket - fabric 3" X width of fabric
Polyester stuffing
Cream pearl cotton or embroidery floss
Three 1/2" buttons
Powder blush

Finished size- 6 1/2"

*Instructions- for one
1/4" seam allowance is included*

BODY

1. On two layers of fabric, with right sides together, trace around the body shape using a fine black felt tip pen.
2. Make a slit through one layer fabric as indicated on the pattern.
3. Sew on the traced line.
4. Trim seam allowance to 1/4" and clip corners.
5. Turn right side out through the slit and stuff with polyester stuffing.

FACE

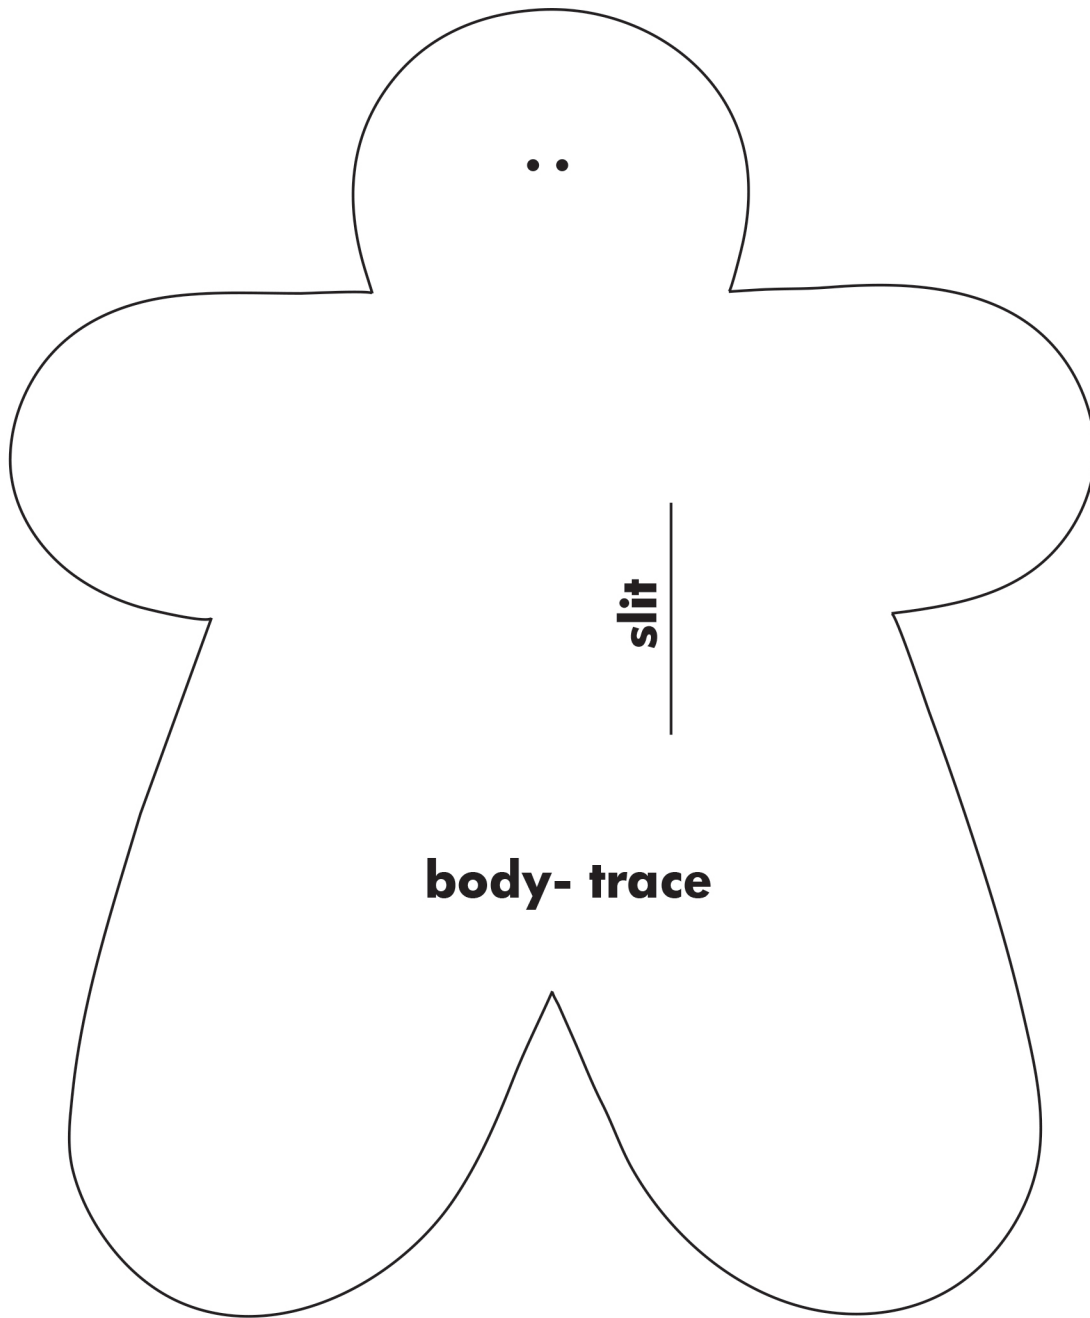

1. Make French knots for the eyes with Pearl cotton or you could also use embroidery floss.
2. To make your gingerbread boy look a little ragged and worn, stitch along the seams with a few stitches sewn across the seam.
3. Brush a small amount of powder blush on the cheeks.

POCKET

1. Cut two pieces of fabric 2 1/2" x 2 1/2".
2. With right sides together, sew the square together around all sides, 1/4" seam allowance.
3. Cut a small slit at the lower end of one of the squares, cutting only through one layer.
4. Turn right side out through the slit. Press.
5. Sew a button to the front of the pocket.
6. Sew the pocket to the gingerbread boy over the slit on the body by sewing irregular stitches across the edge of the pocket using Pearl cotton.
7. Add a cinnamon stick and greenery to the pocket.

Sweetwaters

gingerbread boy

Sweetwaters